

MLRO (MONEY LAUNDERING REPORTING OFFICER) TRAINING

Face to Face/Virtual Instructor-Led Training

COURSE SUMMARY

The Money Laundering Reporting Officer (MLRO) plays a critical role in protecting organisations from financial crime by ensuring compliance with Anti-Money Laundering (AML), Counter Financing of Terrorism (CFT), and Counter Proliferation Financing (CPF) regulations.

The MLRO Training Programme is designed to equip current and aspiring MLROs, Compliance Officers, and senior professionals with the practical knowledge and leadership skills required to establish, manage, and strengthen an effective AML compliance framework.

Participants will gain an in-depth understanding of the responsibilities of an MLRO, including risk assessment, governance, customer due diligence (CDD), sanctions compliance, suspicious transaction reporting, regulatory inspections, and organisational compliance obligations. The programme also explores UAE AML legislation, FATF Recommendations, and international best practices to help participants confidently fulfil their regulatory responsibilities.

Delivered through practical case studies and real-world scenarios, this programme prepares professionals to lead AML compliance programmes and support strong organisational governance.
