

SALES PROFESSIONAL WITH AI COURSE

Face to Face/Virtual Instructor-Led Training

COURSE SUMMARY

Sales is evolving rapidly, with Artificial Intelligence transforming how organisations identify prospects, engage customers, and drive business growth. Modern sales professionals need more than traditional selling skills—they need to leverage AI to improve productivity, personalise customer interactions, and make data-driven decisions.

The Sales Professional with AI programme combines proven sales methodologies with the latest AI-powered tools and techniques. Participants will learn the complete sales cycle—from prospecting and lead generation to negotiation, closing, and customer relationship management—while discovering how AI can streamline workflows, automate routine tasks, and enhance sales performance.

Designed with a practical, industry-focused approach, this programme equips learners with the skills to thrive in today's technology-driven sales environment.
